ADVANCEMENT FOR C. J. WILDER

THREE CAPABLE SOUTHERN PA-CIFIC EMPLOYEES PROMOTED BY PRESIDENT HARRIMAN.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 10.—By cable today President E. H. Harriman announced the promotion of three capable and popular officials of the Southern Pacific Company. First on the list is Charles J. Wilder, who is promoted from the position of freight auditor to be assistant auditor of the Southern Pacific Company. This requires a removal of his headquarters from Fourth and Townsend streets to the Wells, Fargo & Company's building on Second street. Mr. Wilder is a brother of the late A. L. Wilder, for many years general superintendent with headquarters at Oakland.

He has been for many years freight auditor of the company and is regarded as one of the most competent and trustworthy men in its service.
Among his railway associates he is held in the highest esteem, and with the general public he is exceptionally popular. Mr. Harriman, who has a keen eye for good men, readily discerned the valuable qualities in Mr.
Wilder, and his deserved promotion comes as a consequence.

Dr. W. C. Horsburgh, who has been for many years assistant freight auditor moves up to the place made vacant by the advancement of Mr. Wilder, and the position of assistant freight auditor is taken by Henry S. Lincoln, formerly confidential clerk of J. C. Stubbs, traffic manager of the Southern Pacific system, and Mr. Lincoln is capable man.

POLICE READY FOR THIEVES.

CHIEF HODGKINS PREPARES TO GIVE PICKPOCKETS WARM RECEPTION.

Chief of Police Hodgkins is preparing to receive the crooks, pickpockets and petty thieves who will be attracted to Oakland during Carnival week, and although the city will be thoroughly patrolled, in spite of everything that can be done robberies and petty losses will happen.

"The general public can help us greatly in this matter," said Chief Hodgkins this morning. "If people will only put their valuables in a place of safety instead of leaving them lying around in easy reach.

"The Carnival will bring large crowds of visitors from all parts of the State and naturally the light-fingered gentry will come, expecting rich picking. But I have systematically arranged the men at my disposal in such a way that I think reports of robberies and pockets being picked will be few. The public can help us by using some care in the way money and jewelry is left about the house.
During Carnival week, at least, anything of any value should be deposited in a place of safety, and but very little jewelry worn about the streets.

"The crooks will then become disheartened at the unliberality of Oakland and leave town. At present the light-fingered ones are robbing a harvest in San Francisco, but as soon as the Carnival opens here they will flock across the bay."

UNION IRON WORKS IN IT.

NEW YORK, June 10.—Details concerning the proposed commission of ship building interests was made public here today. The commission will probably be known as the United States Ship Corporation and will be incorporated in New Jersey. The capitalization will be about $25,000,000, equally divided in common and preferred shares, and it is likely that bonds in two classes, amounting to $9,000,000, will be issued. The Trust Company of the Republic of this city will finance the commission and act as transfer agent. Alexander and Green will be the general counsel. It is said the following companies and firms have been invited to enter the commission:

Union Iron Works of San Francisco, Rath Iron Works, Bath, Maine; Hyde Whitcomb Co., Bath, Me.; Crescent Shipping Co., Elizabethport, N. J.; Samuel M. Moore Sons and Co., Elizabethport, N. J.; and the Harlan and Hollingsworth Co., of Wilmington, Del.

SHRINERS AT THE RACETRACK

THE COMPETITIVE DRILL WILL BE A VERY INTERESTING AFFAIR.

The most unique and interesting feature of Shriners' visit to this coast will be the competitive drill to be held at the Oakland driving park tomorrow, Thursday, at 2 o'clock p. m.

The six Patrols of forty members each, with bands and drum corps, will contest for the prize, presenting the choicest and most unique exhibition ever given on this coast, and the most interesting of all the displays of the Shriners' week of entertainments.

The evolutions will be, as well as intricate, while the gorgeous costumes, those of each Patrol being different, and all Arabic, will surpass the pictures of the kaleidoscope.

This interesting exhibition is for Oakland's Shriners Day, and the only exhibition of the kind during the Carnival. It will be an exhibition that to miss will be cause for regrets.

The music will be as varied, new and choice as the Arabic and evolutions.
Go early to obtain seats—those in carriages will be admitted with their conveyances to the inside of park grounds where they will have a fine view of drill and evolutions.

D. F. OLIVER HAS FILED HIS ANSWER

The following has been put on record:

D. F. Oliver, plaintiff, vs. Central Bank, defendant. The plaintiff above named, by Chickering & Gregory, his attorneys, answering the counter claim of defendant, alleges and denies as follows, to wit:

Denies that plaintiff, in consideration of the sum of $50 to be paid him by said defendant, agreed to do and perform all the work and labor of all the work or labor required by and for him as an architect in and about or in arranging the building of the counter claim in the erection of safe deposit vaults in its building on Fourteenth street and Broadway in the city of Oakland.

Denies that in accordance with the agreement alleged in defendant's counter claim, plaintiff entered upon and discharge of his said duties as such architect.

Plaintiff further denies that at any time he informed said defendant that one of the steel doors that was being constructed for said safe deposit vault so as to swing toward the rear of said building would have to be changed so as to swing toward the front of said building in order to conform to his plans.

Denies that acting solely, or at all upon the information given by the plaintiff, defendant ordered said steel door so constructed that the same should and would swing toward the front of said building, or that said door was so constructed in accordance with the direction of this plaintiff.

Denies that on or about January 21, 1901, or at any time, this plaintiff informed defendant that he, said plaintiff, had made a mistake in ordering that said door should be so constructed as to swing toward the front of said building, or that if said defendant would have said door so changed that it would swing toward the rear of said building he, said plaintiff would pay the expenses thereof.

Plaintiff denies that he ever directed that said door should swing toward the front of said building and alleges that the original and all the plans prepared by him did and do show the door swinging toward the rear of said building and in this behalf alleges that one W. G. Palminter, vice-president of said defendant, without the knowledge of plaintiff, directed and personally ordered said door constructed so as to swing toward the front of said building. When plaintiff learned of the action of said Palminter said plaintiff insisted that said door be so changed as to swing toward the rear of said building in accordance with the plans prepared by him.

Denies that it was solely or at all by reason of any promise made by plaintiff or by reason of relying upon any promise of this plaintiff that said defendant had the said door in any way altered or changed, but that the mistake alleged in said cross complaint was made by said defendant and was corrected at the suggestion of this plaintiff.

That this plaintiff, never at any time promised to pay any part of the expenses of making said change.

Wherefore, plaintiff prays that said defendant take nothing by reason of said counter claim, and that he be hence dismissed, as to the same, with his costs.

CHICKERING & GREGORY,
Attorneys for Plaintiff.

ACCUSED OF INCITING BOYS TO STEAL

On motion of W. H. L. Hynes, the charges of petit larceny against three little school boys—John Angle, Harry Andriana and Eugene Batola, were taken from the calendar in the Police Court this morning.

The boys were arrested on May 27th for stealing some brass fixtures from the car house at Fourteenth and Kindred streets. It was alleged that the boys had sold the brass to a junk dealer for 10 cents, and the case was continued in order that the name of the junk dealer be ascertained, the boys having claimed that they were up to stealing the brass by him.

In the Police Court this morning Mr.
Hynes stated that the junk dealer was found to be one Smoot, who drives a wagon over the street. It is claimed that he is a regular fagan and is teaching small boys all over the city to steal articles which he buys for a trifle.

As yet no action has been taken to prosecute Smoot.

SAYS HER HUSBAND PELTED HER WITH EGGS.

Because her husband beat and choked her, pelted her with stale eggs and threatened to cut her children's legs off, Mrs. Lizzie Wilbur has sued William Wilbur for divorce on the ground of desertion and extreme cruelty.

Mrs. Wilbur was Miss Lizzie Plimley, and she married Wilbur in Oakland in 1891. They have two children. Most of their married life has been spent at their home in San Mateo, where the wife says he abused her. He would come home in an intoxicated condition, she declares, and after cursing her would subject her to all sorts of indignities and abuse.

DIVORCES GRANTED IN COURT TODAY

UNHAPPY WIVES TELL THEIR TROUBLES AND ARE GIVEN FREEDOM.

Judge Greene this morning granted a divorce to Mary Hansen from Nicholas Hansen on the ground of desertion, and awarded to her the custody of their three minor children.

The Hansens were married at Modesto, Stanislaus county, in 1881, and the wife claims she was deserted in 1888, after living with her husband for eighteen years.

Judge Greene also granted a divorce to Phoebe Andreas from William T. Andreas, on the ground of neglect, and granted her $25 a month alimony for the support of their two minor children, whose custody she was awarded. They were married in 1882, and the wife says she was neglected because of her husband's "idleness, profligacy and dissipation."

Isabella Young has been granted a divorce from Cornelius Young, a colored Pullman porter, on the ground of failure to provide.

Young is well known in Oakland, where he has lived for years. He was formerly a waiter at the Hotel Graven, and later a nurse at the Asylum for the Deaf, Dumb and Blind at Berkeley. His wife says he has failed to provide for her for five years and that she has been compelled to earn her living by hiring out as a cook.

WELCH WAS CRUEL, WIFE GETS DIVORCE

After living with her husband for eight years, Mrs. Gloria Welch was forced by his cruelty to leave him, and today she was given a divorce by Judge O'Brien, on a ground of extreme cruelty and interference.

Mrs. Welch before her marriage was a belle of Temescal, and when she married Samuel Welch in May, 1892, the world was a different place from that of today. Welch was a member of Contra Costa county and a member of the once wealthy family of that name, who are pioneers of Contra Costa.

Their happiness was short lived, however. According to the wife, her husband soon began drinking to excess, and when he wasn't cursing her he was abus-ing her in other ways. He often complained and drove her to seek shelter with the neighbors. Finally, a year ago she left him, and he has since been a home at one Forty-seventh street where she has since lived. Then she retained Attorney J. J. McDonald and the decree of divorce is the result.

His body was found in his room in a South Main street lodging house. GUARDIANSHIP OF THE DIXON CHILDREN. Judge Ellsworth this morning partially heard the petition of Secretary of the Associated Charities to be appointed guardian of Amy and Jane Dixon, children whom she found living in squalor with a mother, whose mind has become weakened. ### Refrigerators

A cool refrigerator is a blessing in warm weather like this, particularly if it is a good one that will properly keep your fruit, butter, milk, cream and meat without allowing one article to taint the other.

We carry a splendid line of refrigerators—they preserve everything in its natural state and are economical in the use of ice; being made of first class material and will last for years, prices are very reasonable.

Other warm weather suggestions; ice cream freezers, warm filters, ice boxes, etc.

PERKINS' GREAT VICTORY.

Senator Perkins gained a complete victory over the enemies of the island when he succeeded in squelching Hale's amendment to the naval bill, providing for the appointment of a commission to report on the advisability of abandoning the Mare Island yard. He also gained a notable point in having the committee report favorably on his proposition to have two each of the battleships, cruisers and gunboats built in the navy yards. Thus the attack of the ship building combine on the navy yards has been turned into a coat of the assault.

The speech of Senator Perkins was unimpeachable because it presented irrefutable facts to support his position. He first showed that the Mare Island yard has been doing better than a first class yard in the country, and that it has the deepest water of any Government yard east of the Mississippi.

Then, he showed that competition among the private ship yards had reduced the cost of building battleships fifty percent, but pointed out that this competition was an end because of the use of private yards had entered into a combine or trust to destroy competition.

Next Senator Perkins quoted from Colonel Chamberlain's report on the transport service to show that the three ship building firms of San Francisco had formed a combine to exact excessive prices for building the army transports. Throughout he relied upon authoritative facts collected by officials of the navy, navy and treasury departments, and made no statement that was not supported by irrefragable testimony. Against this overwhelming presentation nothing could be said, and when Perkins ended his argument, the case was closed.

Not only has Senator Perkins vindicated the trust reposed in him by his constituents, but he has performed a signal service to the whole country. He has defeated and shown up a conspiracy against the public welfare, hatched to serve purposes of private gain at the expense of the public service.

A CASE IN POINT.

Lewis Nixon is to be head of the new shipbuilding trust. This is worthy of note because it has a bearing on the economy and efficiency of constructing warships in the Government navy yards. Nixon was educated at Annapolis and rose to the rank of captain in the Construction bureau. He is admitted to be a first-class naval engineer, which is evidence that the Government school turns out thoroughly equipped naval constructors. Nixon supervised the construction of the battleship Texas, which was built at the Norfolk navy yard, but he did not draw the plans for the vessel, which were purchased in England. The faults of the Texas are due to the plans and not to the construction.

This is important, because the Texas has been pointed to as an evidence that the Government yards do not turn out first-class ships of war. The models for our best and latest ships are all devised by officers of the navy, and the work on the Texas is proof that the Government yards are not behind private yards in efficiency.

It is stated that Captain Hobson, who sank the Merrimack and supervised the raising of the Spanish ships sunk at Manila, has been offered $10,000 a year to supervise construction at the Philadelphia yards. Nearly all the large eastern shipyards have in their employ graduates of Annapolis and pay them much higher salaries than they receive in the Government service. Certainly these men are as valuable to the Government as they are to private firms.

If the Government has first-class naval engineers and fully equipped shipyards why cannot it build warships as cheaply and as well as private yards? No satisfactory answer has yet been given to this question. Up to this time the objections to the Government building its own ships have been based upon denial of the premises. It has continuously asserted that the Government yards and constructors are not so efficient as those of private concerns, but the facts disprove the assertion, which seems to have been put forth to justify continuing out to private parties the building of warships.

The Arkansas Democrats have renominated Jeff Davis for Governor. His chief claims to distinction are that he pardoned a negro convict on condition that he would go to Massachusetts to live and that he was dis-fellowshipped a few days ago by the Baptist Church for various offenses against the moral law. Is this to be taken as indicative that the Arkansas Democrats are not concerned about good morals.

An epidemic of bribery scandals seems to prevail in Eastern cities. St. Louis is convulsed by an upheaval in which a small army of officials has been caught, and now Minneapolis and Grand Rapids are in the throes of bribery scandals of a sensational character. After all, Oakland is not without company in the gallery of unfavorable official sensations.

It looks as if the Republican ship of Pennsylvania still lies by the old Quay.

THE COYOTE SCALP CLAIMS.

Superior Judge Hughes of Sacramento has made a second ruling in the coyote scalp case that goes far to mitigate the consequences of his first. When he ruled that the validity of individual claims could not be attacked unless, conspiracy on the part of boards of Supervisors and other county officials was set up, it appeared that if the State was compelled to pay one claim it would be compelled to pay all. But he has now ruled that mere "agents or assignees" have no standing in Court under the statute of 1901. The law requires that suits on contracts for coyote scalps shall be commenced within one year after issuance by their "owner or holder." Judge Hughes ruled that agents and assignees are neither owners nor holders within the meaning of the statute. This rules out hundreds of claims, aggregating many thousands of dollars, which have been assigned to banks and speculators.

While the State should be protected from robbery, this coyote scalp business should be settled without violating public faith. It is too late to debate the wisdom of the coyote scalp bounty law. The Legislature, with the approval of the Governor, passed the act offering a bounty for coyote scalps, provided certain conditions were complied with. Under this act several thousand claims aggregating an enormous sum have accrued against the State. They have not been paid because the Legislature refused to make the necessary appropriations. This is one way of evading an obligation.

While many of the coyote claims are fraudulent, the great majority of them are honest, and it is morally impossible to separate the honest claims from the dishonest ones. Shall the State now refuse to pay its honest debts because unprincipled persons have presented dishonest claims? That all the money paid out for coyote bounties is virtually wasted is generally conceded, but the State's creditors are not responsible for that. When the State offered a bounty for coyote scalps it pledged its faith to payment. It is in honor bound to redeem its promises. If the Legislature neglected to properly safeguard the State's interests in the Bounty Act, the creditors are not to blame.

It is gratifying that the coyote claims are in progress of settlement on some sort of terms which do not sacrifice the State's dignity or good name, for they have been productive of more than one scandal in the Legislature, and have become a standing nuisance. The methods used to secure payment at the hands of the Legislature have badly discredited them, but the duty of the State to make a settlement remains unimpaired.

It would be most unfortunate to close the Polytechnic High School. It is a necessary part of the educational system of the city, and to close it now after it has been so long in operation would be a step backward that Oakland cannot afford to take. True, the city is in financial straits, but our educational facilities should not be cut down. San Francisco has three schools of the High school class that give industrial training while Oakland has only one, and that one not fully equipped. It may be urged that San Francisco's industrial schools are the gifts of private beneficence, but that fact does not detract from their value nor does it absolve Oakland from providing facilities of the same class. It is to be hoped that some method of economizing can be found that will obviate the closing of the Polytechnic school.

REALISTIC PLAY AT THE DEWEY

The great and realistic production of "The Streets of New York" is on at the Dewey. The play is a masterpiece of the theater ever evening.

The play has been seen here before by traveling companies which have been literally prostrated by the Eastern press, but none of them ever gave such a presentation of the play as Mr. Stevens and his company are now giving. The fire scene alone is worthy of the price of admission.

The play will be removed next Sunday night, so that people who wish to see a fine performance should not miss this opportunity.

PATRIOTISM TO REIGN ON INDEPENDENCE DAY

Merchants of Oakland Arrange Plans for the Fourth of July Celebration.

That Oakland will have a Fourth of July celebration that will excel any previous attempt in that direction was indicated last evening, when the various sub-committees in charge of the arrangements made their reports.

It was reported that more than three thousand men and hundreds of school children would be in line.

The several committees reported that they were receiving the unanimous support of the merchants and the public in general.

FINANCE COMMITTEE.

Chairman Gier of the Finance Committee was absent, but other members of the committee reported that they were receiving considerable encouragement from the merchants and others.

PARADE COMMITTEE.

Chairman Arper of the Parade Committee said that there would be more than 3,000 persons in the parade and it would be the most elaborate display ever seen here.

Admiral Chase of the Naval Station at Yerba Buena Island, he said, would send a company of apprentices and a company of marines to participate in the parade.

The Presidio in San Francisco, he said, would send several companies of regulars, artillery and cavalry corps; that Company A, Veteran Reserves, Live Oak Lodge, K. of P., and other organizations of that order; Oakland Wheelmen, Modern Woodmen, Locomotive Firemen, Maccabees, Piedmont Parlor of Native Sons, Foresters, Odd Fellows and many others would be in line.

St. Stein announced that the carriage company he represented would have an ornamental float in line.

Superintendent of Schools McLynn said, it was stated, would have at least 1,000 school children take part in the parade and carry flags.

DECORATION COMMITTEE.

Much progress has been made by the Decoration Committee, according to its report.

The Elks have consented to leave their electric decorations in place and the committee will make use of them on the Fourth.

MUSIC COMMITTEE.

H. Gier of the Music Committee reported that the committee had secured the services of seven bands.

It was suggested that the chorus of the Turn Verein would be charged with singing on the Fourth without charge for its services.

LITERARY EXERCISES.

Chairman G. R. Lukens of the Committee on Literary exercises presented a report, making the following recommendations:

"First—That the exercises consist of invocation, address by the Mayor, reading of the Declaration of Independence, poem, oration and choral and instrumental music interspersed.

"Second—That the exercises be held at Lafayette Square and the platform erected for the Elks' Carnival be secured as a stand for the speakers.

"Third—That the literary exercises be held at the conclusion of the parade.

"Fourth—That one of the bands participating in the parade be assigned to furnish music during the exercises.

"Fifth—That a program of the exercises be printed for distribution to the audience.

DISMISSAL OF PARADE.

"I suggest that the parade be dismissed near the stand and by so doing more people will attend the literary exercises," said A. B. Schleuter.

Chairman Arper of the Parade Committee said that the suggestion would receive attention.

Chairman Lukens of the Literary Committee also stated that a large BUILDING UP THE NORTH SHORE.

New Management Prepares for a Busy Summer Season.

The new management of the North Shore Railroad, the scenic route via Sausalito, which was formerly known as the North Pacific Coast Railroad, has mapped out many improvements along its line in Marin and Sonoma counties, which will develop the country. President, the division and other officials of the company have spent considerable time of late personally inspecting the roadway and planning changes which will be a benefit to the public as well as to the railway. To begin with the through train service to Camp Taylor, Inverness, Camp Redwood, Russian River points and Cazadero has been greatly improved. The old cars have gone into the shops for repairs and a train of good cars, up and down the line, is now sent out every morning over the line. Road-master Baker and a gang of men has been engaged for the past ten days reconstructing the track between Duncan's Mills and Cazadero. The old rails are being taken up and heavy steel rails substituted and the work is being rushed so that the road will be in good shape to handle the heavy summer travel which this section of the line will be expected to handle. In a day or two work on this division will be completed and the force moved to other sections which require precedence in repairs. The model for the new summer season to be built has been accepted and the new boat will be a crackerjack. Before long work will be started on the electric suburban line from Sausalito to San Rafael and Fairfax.

The general improvement in the service has already caused an increase in travel and inquiries at the company's offices for summer accommodations, camping grounds and sites for country homes are in excess of any year since the road was built.

HORSE KICKS OFF A WOMAN'S EAR

A fractious horse yesterday kicked off the right ear of Mrs. Edward Murphy, who resides with her husband at 1415 Seventh street in this city.

The accident was a peculiar one. Mrs. Murphy accompanied her husband to the hills of Contra Costa county to secure a horse that had been in pasture. The animal was tied to the buggy they were driving and Mr. and Mrs. Murphy started to return to Oakland. They had gone but a short distance when the frisky horse, fresh from the pasture, began kicking. Unfortunately, one of his hoofs struck Mrs. Murphy on the ear, severing it from the head.

The severed member was wrapped in a handkerchief and Mrs. Murphy was hastily driven to this city, where a surgeon sewed the ear to the head, although he stated that there was little chance of its uniting.
